

New lath installation products in the Jussi surface-mounted range

The new Jussi surface mounting box and socket outlet are designed based on customer feedback, and they fit seamlessly into the Jussi product range.

Fast and flexible installation

The new Jussi socket outlet for lath installation has all the excellent properties of the IMPRESSIVO® socket outlets, with the addition of some new properties.

- Simple attachment with three screws
- Height adjustment
- Easy for the installer
- Fast and flexible installation

Large separated spaces for connections and cable conduits (for easier and more flexible installation)

With appropriate installation strips, telecommunication cables can also be run in the same wiring conduits.
