

STRIEBEL & JOHN Power distribution systems

Intelligent solutions for practical applications

Today's ideas are tomorrow's opportunities – that is our philosophy as a leading manufacturer of power distribution systems. We produce, develop and distribute innovative and practical product systems for the future.

From the family home to industrial buildings – wherever electricity is metered and distributed, our efficient products are in use. Naturally, we also offer a large number of specialist solutions for power distribution, e.g. cabinets with special dimensions, tableaux, top-mounted cabinets, consoles, etc. We follow the successful principle of modularity, which provides the professional with the greatest amount of flexibility when constructing power distribution systems.

With our quick assembly system, you will have no problem at all expanding our range of modular cabinets perfectly. They can be combined quickly, efficiently and easily – these are three product features which speak for themselves. This system is complemented by sophisticated accessories and wiring components.

The result: maximum possibilities with a minimum of components.
