

Intelligent operations, thanks to next level control

Universal Motor Controller UMC100.3

Taking motor control to the next level shouldn't be complicated. And with the UMC100.3, it isn't. Part of a complete suite of products from ABB, the UMC100.3 delivers all the reliability and protection you expect while driving an intelligent data hub for predictive applications. Unrivalled communication options further enhance intelligent operations. And simple configuration, market leading software, and outstanding user experience give you a truly future ready solution. What's more, it provides savings of up to 40% total costs. The UMC100.3. Effortless motor control. abb.com/lowvoltage

