

Optimize process performance without compromising energy efficiency.

Challenges facing water utilities include managing leakage and pressure, optimizing pump performance, improving potable water quality, reducing energy consumption and CO₂ emissions, and lowering maintenance costs. ABB recently launched a low voltage AC drive, ACQ810, that features several intelligent functions specifically designed to combat challenges faced by pumps. Improve your utility's energy efficiency and productivity, call ABB.

www.abb.com/water

