

Increasing energy efficiency by 25%?

A complete power and automation solution from ABB has helped the largest aluminum refinery in Europe to increase its energy efficiency by 25 percent, boosting productivity at the same time. With research and development geared toward improving performance and resource conservation, we're constantly working to save energy and money. And the environment. www.abb.com/betterworld

Certainly