UniGear is ABB’s highly flexible air-insulated, medium-voltage switchgear for primary distribution installations. It is the first ‘one size fits all’ platform of its kind in the 12-24 kV range. Suitable for use in power plants, utility and industrial applications, transportation and the marine sector, it is designed to meet the most demanding international standards for safety, reliability and performance.

www.abb.com/mediumvoltage