

Reach the end of the line without incurring unnecessary costs.

When choosing variable speed drives you need a supplier that can support you from pre-design to end of line. ABB's suite of life cycle services looks after your variable-speed drives from initial enquiry to final recycling. That way you www.abb.com/drives

www.abb.com/drivespartners

ensure that your production is reliable and safe, operational costs are minimized, energy use is low and CO₂ emissions are reduced. To find out more, call ABB.

