Table

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Style No.</th>
<th>Catalog No.</th>
<th>Notes</th>
<th>Insulation Class</th>
<th>Insulation Level</th>
<th>Max. Life To Insulation Level</th>
<th>Tolerance</th>
<th>Max. Life To Tolerance</th>
<th>Tolerance</th>
<th>Max. Life To Tolerance</th>
<th>Tolerance</th>
<th>Max. Life To Tolerance</th>
<th>Tolerance</th>
<th>Max. Life To Tolerance</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Notes:
1. For higher application, motor is to be mounted so that all vent holes are at the vertical side of apparatus.
2. For optimal performance, the motor must be filled with all holes to prevent the use of oil.
3. It is necessary that the motor be mounted on apparatus with their ventilation at the top.

---

Diagram

---

---

---

---

---

---