SACE® Tmax® XT1-XT2-XT3-XT4 Cap Kit modification

As part of ABB's continuous improvement process, a design optimization has been made to facilitate greater harmonization among the SACE® Tmax® XT product range. The design change affects the Cap Kit and their nuts associated with the XT1-XT2-XT3-XT4 circuit breakers. The change is as follows:

While classified as an aesthetic modification and may be noticeable to the customer, this design update does not have impact on product reliability or performance.

The new design will be introduced in production lines starting February 2023. The previous design will continue to ship as material stock transitions.
