

Relion® - the complete family of relays

Comprehensive protection and control

ABB's Relion portfolio is the first comprehensive range of relays to meet the protection, control, measurement and supervision needs of transmission and sub-transmission, distribution and industrial applications. Relion products are universally deployable, regardless of the operating environment and they comply with IEC 61850 and ANSI standards. Their hallmarks include reliability, dependability, flexibility, efficiency and interoperability.

www.abb.com/mediumvoltage

