On solar-DC networks, it is much more difficult to disconnect the Surge Protective Devices in case of electrical short circuit thus, it is highly recommended to use SPDs with specific DC thermal disconnection and specific DC back up protection.

ABB OVR PV have been specifically developed for DC solar application to avoid disconnecting problems and therefore offering a safe and efficient protection to solar installations.