What we do in Byhalia

The Byhalia Distribution Center is ABB's eastern U.S. warehousing, logistics, and distribution hub for electrification products manufactured domestically and globally.

Who we serve

In Byhalia, we warehouse, package, and ship a diverse set of ABB products, including electrical connectors and junction boxes, wire and cable management systems, and electrical safety equipment. We ship products to customers and partners across the globe including hardware stores, electrical contractors and distributors, manufacturers, and electric utilities.
