

Power and productivity
for a better world™

Making your world turn efficiently without wasting energy.

Some 65 percent of industrial electricity is used by motor-driven applications like pumps and fans. That is why ABB has developed some of the world's most energy-efficient motors. Many motors benefit from using variable-speed electric drives, reducing energy bills by 20 to 60 percent. Make your world turn efficiently, call ABB.

www.abb.com/energyefficiency

