

Updated product design

AF190 ... AF370 3-pole contactors

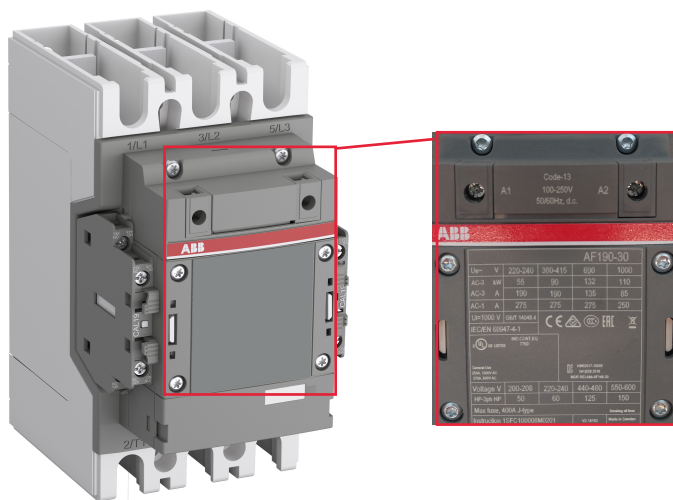

The AF190 ... AF370 3-pole contactors have received an updated design. This design allows ABB to prepare the AF contactors range for future product offering extension which will be communicated in due course. Although the updated design is visible, there are no changes of order codes, dimensions, technical data, footprints, compatibility with accessories or with other ABB product such as breakers and overload relays.
