What we do in Hickory

In Hickory, we design and manufacture Hi-Tech® fuses, an industry-leading brand of current-limiting fuses with advanced designs to provide maximum protection from over-current faults and short circuits. They protect power grid infrastructure, such as transformers, switchgear, capacitor banks and wind and solar farms. Small and cost-efficient, Hi-Tech fuses optimize value and reliability while reducing system lifecycle costs.

Who we serve

Fuses produced in Hickory are used by a variety of customers, including electric utilities, power generation facilities and transportation systems. Most commonly, our fuses are used by utilities in equipment that provides power in neighborhoods across the U.S.
